Good morning,
First of all, For the initialisation of this project, I ask everyone to recall the Concept of LDU factorization and the Concept of JavaScript if anything is remaining as these are key Concept in this project.
Second, We need to schedule a google meet before 31st so we can start working on it as task assigned.
Most probably we should have meeting today or tomorrow itself because if we shift it for later it may hamper festive celebrations.
Just let me know if you are travelling or not So that I can schedule a meeting accordingly.

I request everyone in the group to go through tutorials for git and GitHub to gain knowledge about it otherwise it will be difficult for you to contribute to this project as this project is to be made on GitHub.
Unless you don't know about git and GitHub you won't be able to contribute to the project.
Everyone is requested to send their GitHub Id so that I can add them to the repo.
Thanks and Regards

For better understanding of Git and Github you should refer to this video https://youtu.be/Ez8F0nW6S-w?feature=shared
Please go through this video if you have any problem on Git and GitHub because you won't be able to contribute to the project if you don't know how to use Git and GitHub

Everyone is requested to go through this code before today's meeting as this is what we have made till now and further modifications in the code are expected from everyone.
As of now the problems are:-
1.) Matrix bracket display issue
2.) Matrix operations steps are not clear.
3.) Alignment of CSS in web page
Everyone please try to figure out adequate solutions for the same and mail the updated code and mention whatever you guys updated.
